
INSTRUCTION FOR TREE ORIENTATION

TREE ORIENTATION

A worldwide magical action to bring the human and plant worlds closer together, as they once were. The more we reconnect to the sacredness of nature, the more we can live in harmony with the living energy field of the universe that sustains or life and evolution.

Tree Orientation is a project that Damanhur has been carrying out for over a decade. Anyone who perceives trees as living creatures can participate, in a simple and concrete way, to re-establish the vital connection between the world of humans and plants.

Tree Orientation reestablishes a relationship that has been interrupted due to our lack of sensitivity to the ecosystem we belong to. It is an opportunity to recreate a true alliance between our species, conveying the signal that humanity has understood the need for deep communication with our tree friends.

This magical operation is called “orientation,” because the energies and consciousnesses of the trees are aligned towards a common direction, with the aim of creating an energetic connection between all trees on the planet, even where their roots no longer touch. The goal of this initiative is to connect the plants with each other on a new level, allowing them to unite their power and intelligence at a higher level, bringing back fully what we call, with a bold new logic, “treeness.”

We dream of a humanity that becomes more aware of the plant world, understanding it is as a living, intelligent being with which to establish a constant dialogue necessary for our common evolution.

The Tree Orientation project began in September 2011, simultaneously in California, Japan and Damanhur. Today there are thousands of people involved in this project; their enthusiasm has made it possible to orient millions of trees on every continent, except Antarctica.

If you feel the desire to participate in this great magical project, the time is now! The process is simple; it requires a Selfic tool and, most importantly, the willingness to spend your time with trees.

To begin your journey in this project, you’ll need a Selfica device called “Selfic pendulum” that you can buy here: <https://bit.ly/plantpendulum> . Except for its use when orienting the trees, this pendulum can also be used for personal research and contact with the plant world.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR ORIENTATION WITH THE SELFIC PENDULUM

Keep the pendulum with you, in your aura (in your hand, in your pocket), and make 3 circles around a tree. In this simple way, the tree is oriented. Keep track of the number of trees oriented.

The pendulum is personal and cannot be borrowed. It can also be used in a group, but the operator is always the owner of the pendulum. For example, multiple people can surround the tree and pass the pendulum from hand to hand until the completion of the 3 circles.

COMMUNICATE YOUR ORIENTATION OPERATIONS

Every operation must be communicated to Damanhur because the phases of orientation need to be connected to each other, and this operation is carried out and coordinated at Damanhur.

1. Sign up for free at the Damanhur Community <https://damanhur.community/groups/humanitree-alliance/> and post the specified information there

Or

1. Write to: globaltreenet@damanhur.org

specifying:

1. Name and last name
2. Tool used, which can be the pendulum, the Selfic orientation painting, or the Spheroself, etc.
3. Number of trees oriented
4. Location (at least country and city, preferably with address or GPS coordinates)
5. Tree age, if available

WELCOME TO THIS EXCITING AND FUN ADVENTURE!
